21ST ANNUAL K. T. CONCLAVE HAD MOST BRILLIANT ENDING

JEWEL PRESENTED RETIRING COMMANDER SEAMAN—BOAT AND MOTOR TRIPS AND GREAT RECEPTION MARKED CLOSE.

The Twenty-first Annual Conclave of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Florida, which concluded its sessions in this city Wednesday, is said to have been the most largely attended convention of that body on record, more than 100 Sir Knights being present at every session, and the business was conducted with the greatest harmony and expedition.

A pleasant incident of the closing session was the presentation to the retiring Right Eminent Grand Commander, Galen B. Seaman, of a past grand commander's jewel. The presentation was made by the new V. E. Deputy Grand Commander Frank B. Stoneham, of Miami, in a most felicitous manner. Past Grand Commander Seaman responded with a brief but heartfelt speech of acceptance, evidently deeply touched by the encomiums of the deputy grand commander and the honor conferred.

The social entertainment provided for the afternoon consisted of a theatre party, the boat ride to the inlet and an automobile ride, all of which were enjoyed by the various delegates and visitors. Between 20 and 25 cars took part in the automobile parade which started from the Prince George hotel shortly after 2:00 o'clock. Owing to the high tide on the ocean beach the trip to Port Orange on the beach had to be abandoned, but the cars made the trip to Ormond over the peninsula road and came back on the beach to the Clarence hotel, thence south through Seabreeze and Daytona Beach to this city, when the visitors saw something of Daytona. This automobile ride was under the auspices of Live Oak Chapter, No. 1, O. E. S. of this city.

The great social event, however, was the reception tendered the Sir Knights and their ladies at the Prince George hotel Wednesday evening by the grand officers of the Grand Chapter O. E. S. of Florida. This was one of the largest, if not the largest, receptions ever held in Daytona, more than 500 persons being present.

The guests, who included delegates and visitors to the O. E. S. convention as well as Grand Commandery delegates and visitors, were received by the grand officers of the Grand Chapter O. E. S. of Florida and the past grand matrons and patrons of the order.

The hotel parlors were beautifully decorated for the occasion with the star colors and a profusion of palms and flowers, in which sweet peas and nasturtiums predominated.

Past Grand Commander Galen B. Seaman of this city made an excellent address and there were delightful solo selections by Mrs. A. H. Marshall and Mrs. H. G. Wheeler, of Ft. Lauderdale, and Mrs. A. H. Hercules, of Jacksonville, while Prof. F. E. Sheppard's orchestra, of this city, provided music throughout the evening. Fruit punch and wafers were served during the evening. Mrs. M. L. Stanley presided at the punch bowl and the serving was in charge of Mrs. E. R. Bingham, assisted by the Misses Jennie Messmore, Lee B. Browers, Wilona Lapp, Sarah Williams, Constance, Ashley and Rex Maley.

Mrs. Jacob Duga, who had been at her winter home, the Bellaire, on Magnolia avenue, during the season, left Sunday for her northern home in Bellaire, Ohio.

COUNTER-OFFENSIVE OF TEUTONS BROKE AT END AWFUL BAYONET FIGHTS

PETROGRAD, April 15.—THE AUSTRO-GERMAN OFFENSIVE IN THE VICINITY OF KOZIOWA, NORTHEAST OF USZOK PASS, WAS COMPLETELY SMASHED IN A SEVENTEEN-HOUR BATTLE, TUESDAY NIGHT AND WEDNESDAY, THE ENEMY SUFFERING TERRIBLE LOSSES.

THE AUSTRIANS AND GERMANS CHARGED THE RUSSIANS SEVEN TIMES WITH BAYONETS, ONLY TO BE DRIVEN BACK EACH TIME, AND LEAVING LARGE NUMBERS OF DEAD AT THE END OF EACH CHARGE. THIS WAS THE FIERCEST FIGHTING THAT HAS OCCURRED SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE CARPATHIAN CAMPAIGN.

THRICE THE ENEMY PENETRATED THE RUSSIANS' ADVANCE TRENCHES, ONLY TO PERISH BEFORE TERRIFIC BAYONET CHARGES, WHILE FEARFUL ARTILLERY FIRE SWEEPED THE GROUND BEHIND THEM AND PREVENTED RE-ENFORCEMENTS FROM COMING TO THEIR AID.

THE RUSSIAN LEADERS ARE PREPARING FOR A NEW ADVANCE AGAINST USZOK PASS.

THE AUSTRO-GERMAN OFFENSIVE FROM DUNAJEK RIVER IS STILL PROGRESSING, BUT THE RUSSIANS WILL BE ABLE TO FLANK THIS BY OPENING USZOK PASS, TO THE WEST OF WHICH A BATTLE NOW RAGES.

BANDITS ROB NEW YORK FREIGHT TRAIN.
BUFFALO, April 15.—Four masked men lined up the crew of fast freight on the New York Central, at Sanborn today, at revolvers' points. Then the robbers filled two large trunks with valuable merchandise, and escaped.

ZEPPELIN DROPPED 65 BOMB IN ENGLAND
LONDON, April 15.—Successfully evading a squadron of ten British aeroplanes, a German Zeppelin which attacked towns in the industrial district of Newcastle last night, dashed over the North Sea early today. For nearly five hours the Zeppelin speeded from town to town, inland as well as coastal, and it is estimated, dropped 65 bomb in nine towns. Four persons were injured, but only small damage was done otherwise.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT FROM BERLIN.
BERLIN, April 15 (Official).—Exhausted by their losses in the Carpathian campaign, the attempt of the Russians to invade Hungary has come to a standstill. They were defeated at Czertosz and Mezolaborez, suffering enormous losses. German experts forecast the collapse of the enemy's Carpathian campaign.

Between the Meuse and the Moselle yesterday there were only isolated engagements. French attacks around Marcheville, near and in Le Petre forest, northeast of Manonville, and south of Hartmannsweiler kopf all failed.

At the east, the situation is unchanged.

PROHIBITION ISSUE DEAD FOR TIME; SOLONS EXTEND COM'R HODGES' POWER

TALLAHASSEE, April 15.—THE PROHIBITION ISSUE IS DEAD FOR THIS SESSION OF THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE. SENATOR BLITCH, WHO INTRODUCED THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT AND CHAMPIONED ITS ADOPTION IN THE SENATE YESTERDAY, ANNOUNCED THIS MORNING THAT HE WITHDREW HIS NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION. THIS WAS BROUGHT ABOUT BY A NUMBER OF SENATORS WHO TOLD HIM THERE HAD BEEN A FAIR FIGHT AND THE RESOLUTION HAD BEEN FAIRLY LOST, AND IF ANY FURTHER ATTEMPT TO PUSH IT IS MADE THEY WILL VOTE AGAINST IT.

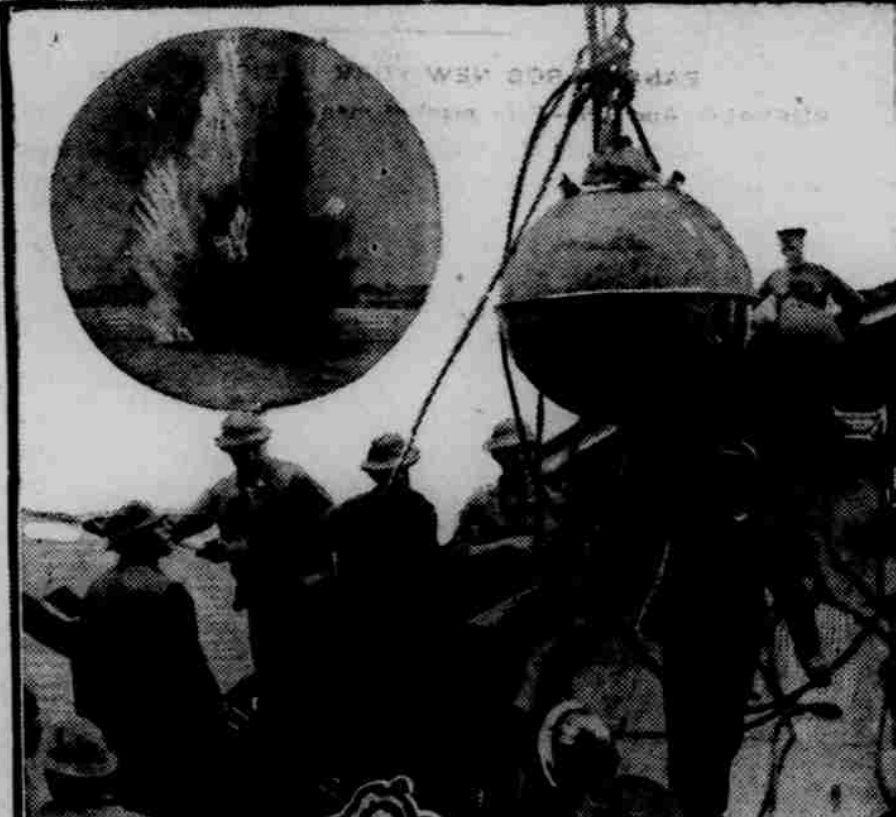

THE NEXT THING THAT IS BEING FELT OUT IS THE MATTER OF A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION AND THE FEELING PREVAILS THAT IF UNSWERVABLE MEN WERE ELECTED DELEGATES, MEN WHO WOULD SEE THAT LEGISLATIVE PEROGATIVES WERE INCORPORATED IN THE ORGANIC INSTRUMENT, THAT THE CONVENTION WOULD BE FAVORED.

THE 228TH SENATE BILL WAS INTRODUCED THIS MORNING, AND PASSED THE BLITCH BILL FOR WATCHERS AT ELECTIONS. THE BLITCH BILL MAKING THE SECOND FRIDAY IN OCTOBER FARMER'S DAY WAS ALSO PASSED BY THE SENATE; SO WAS THE GORNTO BILL REGULATING THE TRIAL OF MINORS IN ALL COURTS; THE HUDSON BILL PERMITTING THE INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT TRUSTEES TO ESTABLISH AND MAINTAIN EXPERIMENTAL FARMS;

THE FISHERIES COMMITTEE OF BOTH HOUSES HAVE THRESHED OUT THE SALT WATER FISH MATTER AND PLACED THIS INDUSTRY UNDER THE JURISDICTION OF THE SHELL FISH COMMISSIONER. THE BILL AS NOW FAVORABLY REPORTED WITH AMENDMENTS WILL, SAYS COMMISSIONER HODGES, TURN INTO THE TREASURY OF THE STATE A SUM AGGREGATING $100,000 ANNUALLY.

THE SHELL FISH EXHIBIT HERE INCLUDES MAGNIFICENT SPECIMENS FROM VOLUSIA COUNTY AND HAS DONE MUCH TO CELEBRATE FRIENDSHIP FOR THE BILL PENDING WHICH WILL, IF ENACTED, GIVE ADDITIONAL AUTHORITY TO THE COMMISSIONER.

FLORIDA EASTERN STAR HERE IN 11TH ANNUAL SESSION

THREE HUNDRED DELEGATES AND VISITORS IN CITY—OTHER SESSIONS GRAND CHAPTER TO-NIGHT AND TOMORROW.

The Eleventh Annual session of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of Florida, which is being held in the Arcade hall in this city, was called to order at 10:00 o'clock this morning by James Carnell, of Ormond, First Grand Patron of Florida.

A pleasant address of welcome was made by Mrs. Julia A. Lapp, Worthy Matron of Live Oak Chapter No. 1, of Daytona, and Mrs. Lulu M. Scott, Associate Grand Matron, made a very fitting response.

This was followed by the reception of distinguished guests and the presentation of guests of honor and of grand representatives.

The address of welcome was made by Claude E. Connor, Associate Grand Patron, and was responded to by Miss Mae V. Scott, Grand Representative of Arkansas.

The announcement of committees was then made, followed by the addresses of the Grand Matron and Grand Patron, which completed the morning session.

The Grand Chapter is in session again this afternoon and will convene again this evening at 8:00 o'clock. Sessions will also be held tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., 2:00 p. m. and 8:00 p. m., which will conclude the convention.

Nearly 300 delegates and visitors were present at the session of the Grand Chapter this morning and the attendance this evening is expected to be much greater.

FINAL FLIGHTS OF HERMANN'S CRAFT SATURDAY AF'NOON

Chas. H. Herrmann's flying boat will make its final flights in Daytona this season, from the landing place at the south end of the city island, Saturday afternoon. Persons holding tickets for flights or who agreed to take tickets, should make use of them on or before Saturday, stated P. C. Rodgers and Mr. Herrmann Thursday morning. So far, 25 or more people have made trips in the wonderful machine, and not one has expressed other than delight with the sensation.

Flights are to be made on both Thursday and Friday afternoons, and Mr. Herrmann hopes to send his machine cloudward upwards of a dozen times tomorrow.

The flying boat has been almost, if not quite, the premier attraction in Daytona for nearly a month, and it and the genial owner's return here next season, if they do come back, will be welcomed.

SPECIAL MEETING OF PARENTS' AND TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Parents' and Teachers' association held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon. Only important business matters were brought up. The program will be rendered and other business taken up at a special meeting to be held next Wednesday, April 21st. All are invited and it is hoped that many will make an effort to attend the meeting which will be an interesting one.

Ralph Erickson left Wednesday for Fort Plain, N. Y., where he expected to spend a couple of weeks and then go to Atlantic City for the summer.

FLORIDA SENATORS ADOPT RESOLUTION CONRAD'S ILLNESS

TALLAHASSEE, April 14. — Evidence of the high esteem in which Senator J. B. Conrad, of Volusia county, is held by his colleagues in the Florida legislature, is contained in the following resolution introduced by Senator Drane, of Polk county, and unanimously adopted in the senate Monday:

"Whereas, This senate has learned with the most profound regret that one of its most distinguished and useful members, the Hon. J. B. Conrad, of the Twenty-eighth district, is confined to a bed of sickness and pain; therefore be it

"Resolved, That secretary of the senate be requested to communicate to the senator the sympathy of this body and to express to him the wish that he may, under a kind Providence, soon be restored to health and strength, and that he may ere long, assume his seat in the senate to assist with his good judgment and wise counsel in its deliberations."

PARTY OF WINTER RESIDENTS DEPART FOR NORTHERN HOMES

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jaqui, of Morristown, N. J., who had been located during the winter with Mr. and Mrs.
C. D. Vincent at the latter's winter home on Loomis avenue, left Sunday on their return north, driving to Jacksonville in their car. Mrs. Jaqui's mother, Mrs. C. A. Gries, who spent the winter here with Mr. and Mrs.
Jaqui, joined them in Jacksonville, going up to that city by train Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, who were returning to their summer home in West Orange, N. J. Miss Florence Coryell, of Caldwell, N. J., and Miss Elizabeth Babbitt, of Boonton, N. J., who had been with Mr. and Mrs. Vincent during the winter, accompanied them north, preceding them, however, to St. Augustine by a few days to see that city. Mr. and Mrs. Jaqui, on their return to Daytona next season, will occupy the winter home which Mr. Jaqui has had erected this season on his lot on South Ridgewood avenue.

Hibernation.

All sleep is phenomenal, but the sleep which endures the winter through with some warm-blooded animals which find themselves suddenly surrounded by frigid weather, and when all functions that make for the best of life are as if they had never been, is most curious. While it is mainly explicable it is none the less astonishing.

BRING WARM NOTES

Muffers Start Romances Between Soldiers and Maids.

Quaint Replies Received to Missives Enclosed in Articles Sent by College Girls to Wounded in Hospitals.

New York.—International romances have been interwoven with the legwarmers and muffers knit by the maids in the dining room of Whittier hall, Teachers' college of Columbia university, and every mail that comes from the other side brings warm missives from the soldiers convalescing in the hospitals of England and Scotland.

No sooner had the needs of the soldiers in the field become known in this country last autumn than Mrs.
Marie Seger, who is in charge of the dining services at Whittier hall, devised a scheme to improve the few leisure minutes the waitresses had and also to assist the warriors. With generous contributions of money made by the young woman students, Mrs.
Seger bought a large quantity of gray wool and knitting needles. She gave a quantity to each of the waitresses, hinting that when they had nothing to do—which frequently occurs when some of the girls miss their meals or come late to them—they might knit leg-warmers or muffers. The waitresses heartily fell in with the idea and the quantity turned out was an excellent tribute to their nimble handwork and the fine spirit with which they accepted the suggestion.

When the goods were being packed for shipment, someone jocosely remarked that they might send along a note or two to cheer up the soldiers.
Mrs. Seger saw no objection to this and half a dozen of the waitresses penned brief notes "to whom our presents are given," enclosing their names. It was around Christmas that the first shipment was made. Now the thanks of the wounded are coming in with both serious and flippant replies to the notes of the girls. Some of the letters from the soldiers are written in Glasgow, some in Edinburgh, but most of them are from St. Andrew's hospital, Dundee. Most of the knit goods containing the letters were distributed there, hence the interesting notes. One of them read:

Dear Fannie — Your note came just in time to make me change my mind. When I got shot on the Aisne I was reported dead. My old girl, hearing of this, up and married a lad that was not man enough to go to war. First I wanted to eat a big enough bullet to make me croak. Then I got mad because I thought if she didn't care for any more of a man than she married she must have thought I was a fine snicker, too.
So now, I want to write to you a lot. Send me your picture when you write again. JOHN —"

Another read:

"Dear Maggie —: From your name I think you are Irish. From your wit I know you are. From your tone I know you are a nice girl. I am Irish and I am married, but I am going to hunt up a nice Irish lad for you and make him write. And I will make him tell the truth, too."
"PATRICK —"

Still another, brief but explicit, ran:
Dear Jennie —: I would like to marry you, but have two Scotch lassies and three laddies in their kilts awaiting me home. What's more, there's a wee wife, and then sometimes I drink too much Scotch, and nice girls like you can't beat me like my wife can. SANDY —"

No engagement rings have been received as yet, but then all sorts of romances are woven around Whittier hall, and the maids now are talking of trips abroad to hunt up their soldier boys when the war is over.

ENGLISH ROOSTER AT WAR

German in St. Louis Is Badly Wounded in Encounter With English Chicken.

St. Louis.—Henry Hoehn, of German descent, has some bad wounds on his face as the result of an encounter with an English chicken, a Plymouth Rock, raised by an Englishman. The cock had been sold to a meat market where Hoehn worked, and Hoehn was selecting some pullets from a pen in which the cock was imprisoned.

The cock, after seeing Hoehn cut off the heads of several pullets with a cleaver, leaped at him and struck him in the face with his spurs. Two long gashes were made. When Hoehn recovered from his surprise he threw the cleaver at the fowl and killed it.

SON TO DISPOSSESS FATHER

Sternly Insists in Court That Parent Must Pay Rent or Move.

Yonkers, N. Y.—Joseph Gillert, thirty, had his father, Paul Gillert, fifty-six, in court for nonpayment of rent and asked that he be dispossessed. The son owns the apartment house at 26 Croton terrace. His father occupies three rooms there.

Judge Beall asked young Gillert to be lenient with his father, but the son said that if his father could not pay his rent he would have to move.
All persuasion failed to shake the younger Gillert. The court had to order the father to pay rent or move.

DAYTONA BEACH

DAYTONA BEACH, April 15.—The largest and most brilliant function of the closing season was the beautiful garden party given by Mr. and Mrs.
H. T. M. Treglown, Mr. and Mrs. S.
G. Young and Mr. and Mrs. R. S.
Holmes on the handsome grounds of their winter homes on the placid Halifax, Halifax avenue, Wednesday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00. Every detail of entertainment for the enjoyment and pleasure of their guests was carried out in the most generous spirit of hospitality for which the hosts and hostesses are noted in the community. Over 150 invitations were issued and so one was sure to meet his or her best friend somewhere in the happy crowds which wandered about inspecting the lawns or sitting under the shade of tarpaulins or listened to musical program.

Hosts and hostesses stood in receiving line under the spreading trees. The handsome lawns, virgin soil a year ago, are now covered with a carpet of green. Trees and flowering shrubs are making thrifty growth, and just in the right spots flower beds are lending color and brightness to the surroundings; roses, English daisies, nasturtiums and numerous rare annuals and bulbs demonstrated what may be done in Florida soil under right conditions. On a terrace near the water's edge vegetable gardens are making good growth.

Throughout the afternoon, at intervals, sweet music was dispensed by the Willson orchestra, with Mrs.
W. H. Courtney, pianist, from the west balcony of Mr. and Mrs. Treglown's home. The colored orchestra from the Midway training school entertained by turns with old plantation songs, dialect recitations and bright ballads. Both balconies were embow-ered in palms, and distance lent charm to the music as it floated out over the waters of the Halifax.

Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the afternoon in decorated booths, by a trio of young ladies, Misses Waterson, Coburn and Holmes. Cake and ice cream were also served on tables on the grounds.

As the hour of leave-taking came, the long line of guests lingered for a last look at the beautiful surroundings, and in their leave-taking of hosts and hostesses, to express their sincere appreciation of the pleasures the afternoon had afforded them.

ALLANDALE

ALLANDALE, April 15.—Mr. and Mrs. George Mead, of Daytona, spent Sunday with their friends, the Ruskas, and attended the evening service at the clubhouse.

The Bakers left for their home in the north on Friday of last week, having finished their work of furnishing their new bungalow so they will be able to occupy it in the fall on their return.

The Sheldens left for their home in Buchanan, Mich., and expect to return here early in the fall.

Mrs. Lessel and her sister, Miss Schwartz, who had been visiting the Hicks family during the winter, left last week on their return to New York.

Mr. Aldrich has started to build a bungalow in one of the lots he bought at the sale, and from the plans, it will be a handsome house and an addition to Ridgewood avenue. We hope to have the Aldrich's to live here next season.

James McCrorey has his two bungalows about finished and in the hands of the painters. Miss Brock's second bungalow will be finished in a short time.

Although we are losing some of our people for the summer, we are not all gone, as the evening service showed. Twenty-two attended and enjoyed the singing and the Rev. Mr.
Oates' little talk.

Mrs. Christiancy left on Wednesday for Deland to join Mr. Christian-cy, and will make a trip through the state together. They will be gone ten days or two weeks.

The five hundred club met as usual on Wednesday evening, closing with an informal dance.

Danger of Lockjaw in Felt.

That commercial gelatin, charcoal and other substances useful in medicine and surgery may contain the germs of lockjaw is well known.
Quite recently it was found that felt so commonly used in orthopedic reten-tive dressings may also contain these germs in abundance. Two patients who had been treated at a German hospital lost their lives as a result of infection from the felt plates used to make a retention support.

DEPT. OF NAVY AND AR DEPTS. FAVOR BIGGER ARMAMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Will the "great army and navy" be the leading issue in the next presidential campaign? This is a question which Washington at present is asking itself, and does not know the answer. It is speculating just how long domestic issues will be submerged by those raised by the gigantic conflict, now raging in Europe.

Obviously too early to give any final reply to the question, but those who are not wanting that the sign of the "great army and navy" has had its effect upon the campaign. The lessons of the European war have not been a together entirely justified or not, but the present administration has been in the position of being opposed to an army and navy increase. Undoubtedly, has been due to the attitude of congress, which has recently opposed any increase of appropriations, and has refused to go beyond the "two-battleships-a-year" idea. Furthermore, the decreasing customs revenues threaten a large deficit for the current fiscal year, and to have largely increased navy and military appropriations in a year when economy was the watchword would have been almost suicidal from a political point of view.

Yet, despite this fact, the impression has gone out that the Wilson administration is opposed to army and navy preparedness, and is so deeply imbued with the international peace and disarmament propaganda that even the European war will not change its policy.

The fact is that the Secretary of War Garrison is one of the firmest believers in a strong army that has ever occupied his office, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels not only believes in a strong navy, but is willing to devote millions of dollars that now go to the maintenance of "superfluous" navy yards to the building of new ships.

But the "greater navy" campaigners are not satisfied with this. They are eager to have the United States enter upon a campaign of dreadnaught building second only to Great Britain. They point to the war east, and see Japan strengthening her arment rapidly; they declare that several of the nations of Europe are ready to dispute the Monroe doctrine as soon as the present war is over. Prof. Roland Usher, whose notable column on "Pan-Germanism," written two years before the outbreak of the war, which has proved prophetic, flatly declares that the United States will have to fight the victor of the present conflict—and that, too, at no distant date. It is evident that Prof. Usher's declaration has been taken cum grano sales by the great majority of enlightened people, but it has had a strong effect nevertheless.

In the present demonstration that force alone is the final law of nations the movement to stimulate a bigger armament for the United States is undoubtedly going to grow in momentum. While the fear of invasion is not regarded seriously in well-informed circles, the fact that the United States must prepare to protect a rapidly developing foreign commerce is being recognized throughout the nation. A strong navy is indispensable to a land aspiring to compete in the markets of the world.

Many enlightened observers in Washington believe that the army and navy issue will be made dominant by at least one of the leading parties in the 1916 campaign.

It Vanished.

"Now," said the great magician, rolling up his sleeves to show that he had no concealed mechanism to deceive the eye. "I shall attempt my never-failing experiment." Taking from his pocket a five-dollar bill, he said: "I shall cause this bill to disappear utterly." So saying, he lent it to a friend.

Did Service to Humanity.

Captain Hutchinson, the dockmaster at Liverpool, is credited with having originated the reflecting lighthouse in 1763, and another great improvement in the invention of a light for light-houses was made by Lieutenant Drummond, who was the first to suggest the using of oxyhydrogen light. Today there is no danger rock or point along any of the navigable coasts but has its modern lighthouse.

And He Did.

A country deacon went home one evening and complained to his wife that he had been abused down at the store shamefully. "One of the neighbors," he said, "called me a liar." Her eyes flashed with indignation. "Why didn't you tell him to prove it?" she exclaimed. "That's the very thing—that's the trouble," replied the husband; "I told him to prove it, and he did."

An Ingenious Courtship

By WILLARD BLAKEMAN

Mrs. Martindale, realizing the dangers which beset young persons who step into matrimonial traps, desired that her daughter should be settled matrimonially while her mother lived and that she should marry a good man. Edward Sawyer was the person on whom Mrs. Martindale had fixed her intentions for her daughter. One day she said to him:

"Edward, I have noticed that you seem pleased with Gwen. I wish to see her settled before I leave her. If you wish to marry her I will help you to win her. If not, I shall try to make a match for her elsewhere."

"You have not been deceived in my partiality for Gwen, Mrs. Martindale, but I don't see that Gwen has any special partiality for me."

"Gwen is romantic and needs to be won by romance. That is why I fear for her. Some worthless fellow is liable to appeal to her in that way and marry her. I value that which is practical in you and wish that you might sink it temporarily, be a bit sentimental, catch Gwen and marry her. After marriage I am sure your good sense and wisdom will hold her."

Mr. Sawyer sat evidently turning something over in his mind, then assured Mrs. Martindale that, although he would be glad to win her daughter, he feared that he was too matter of fact to please her.

One day Gwen received a note which put her in a flutter. The writer declared that he had known her for some time; that he had loved her from the moment he first saw her; that he had forborne to give her the slightest inkling of his affection because he had not observed any predisposition on her part for him. He was a believer in love from the beginning. He knew the woman he wanted the moment he met her and felt sure that if she wanted him she would know him. While he would not make himself known, he could not refrain from telling her that he loved her.

In a few weeks came a second letter. In it her correspondent said that he was impelled to write to her, though he had no information of himself to communicate. He had met her once since he had written the first letter, but had observed nothing in her greeting to give him any reason to think that she had chosen him as he had chosen her. Nevertheless he had a faint hope that there might be some subtle medium of transference which would enable his love to kindle its like in her.

Whether or not this medium existed, Gwen's heart went out to this unknown lover, or, rather, to a being whom she created. She was troubled that he did not enable her to make even a written reply by giving her an address. But one day she received a letter in which he said that he was ill and was pining for a word from her. If he did not get it he feared for the result. An address was given, but she was assured that she would not be able, even if she desired, to trace him.

Gwen did not find the difficulty to be expected in writing a reply, because she wrote to one created by her own fancy. She did not intend to write a loving letter to an unknown man. She thought she merely expressed sympathy. But sympathy is so nearly akin to love that the expression of the one will often do for the other.

The stranger having given an address where a letter might reach him, quite a brisk correspondence sprang up between him and Gwen. She suggested that he make himself known, that if they could not be lovers they might at least be friends, and she longed to do something to show her appreciation of his preference for her. To this he replied that he was sure that when she knew which of her acquaintances he was, that he was a plain, ordinary man, she could not refrain from showing her disappointment. Nor would she believe that one she had known could have so long concealed the love buried away down in his breast.

To this she replied that such a discovery could not but interest her and might turn the scale in his favor. After much urging and the expression of many misgivings he consented to make himself known. He agreed to call upon her on a certain evening. When that evening arrived she spent much time before her glass arranging her costume, and when she heard the ring of the doorbell her heart leaped into her throat. She went downstairs, trembling with anticipation.

"Why, Ned Sawyer?" Sawyer shrank back as though fearing she was about to cast a blight upon him.

"Can it be," Gwen added, a slight color rising in her cheeks, "that you have so long lived near me, have seen me so often and yet have been able to conceal what you have expressed in those lovely letters?"

"Oh, Gwen, tell me, are you—do you wish I had turned out to be some one else?"

"Why, Ned, do you mean to tell me that you haven't known that I?"

He clasped her to his breast. "No; had I even suspected it I would not have wasted so much time on this confounded!"

He checked himself in time to prevent spilling what he had accomplished.

Purely Personal

THURSDAY

William Eick, one of the earliest settlers in Daytona, succumbed to pneumonia at Dr. G. A. Kneek's hospital, at about 6:00 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been ill but a few days, having been at work setting out rose bushes in the yard at his home as late as last Friday. The next day he was stricken, and grew rapidly worse until the end came.

It is understood that the funeral service, which is to be directed by the local Masonic fraternity, will take place Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock. The body will be interred, with Masonic honors, directly after the conclusion of the funeral rites.

Mr. Eick was one of the best known figures about Daytona. He came here about 30 years ago from Trenton, N. J., his boyhood home. He was about 50 years of age. One of his greatest delights was in the care of flowers and plants, and he was regarded as one of the ablest landscape gardeners in this section of Florida.

In addition to being a Mason, Mr. Eick was or had been a member of the lodges of Red Men, Knights of Pythias, and Woodmen of the World. The only surviving member of his immediate family is his wife, Mrs. Theresa Achstetter Eick. Numerous relatives of the latter reside here.

AMERICAN PEACE SOCIETY DIRECTOR TO LECTURE HERE

Rev. J. J. Hall, of Atlanta, Ga., a director of the American Peace society, will give his famous lecture, "What I Saw and Learned in the War Zone," at 2:30 on the afternoon of April 23rd, at the Palmetto clubhouse. Dr. Hall was in Germany when the war broke out and his experiences in that country and in getting back to the United States are told in a charming and graphic way. He has studied the war question from every side and angle, and his lecture has pleased large audiences throughout the south. All are welcome to attend Mr. Hall's afternoon lecture, and it is the hope of the members of the club who are in charge of the afternoon, that a large and representative audience will greet the lecturer on his appearance here, next Friday afternoon.

WHITE IS NOT A COLOR, BUT STRICTLY SPEAKING, BUT IT IS ONCE IN A WHILE

Boston White, a Midway citizen whose last name doesn't at all rhyme with his color and whose culture does not begin to look like the article which makes the rest of the country stand in awe of the city of bean-eaters, sat on the mourners' bench in police court Thursday morning. Boston White has a bicycle, which he occasionally uses in going from somewhere to somewhere else. A day or so ago Boston started for somewhere else. On the way he observed a gang of Ethiopian lads gambling (mind your step on that word) on the green, or near it. One of the lads, Willie Mitchell by inheritance, gambled very precipitately or hurriedly or suddenly or violently (at any rate he got there very soon) right into Boston's path. * * * Then Boston arose from the earth with a wrathful spirit, which found its way into his good right arm. * * * Then Willie arose from the earth and went home and imparted what was on his mind. And then Willie's whole family's wrath arose in its might (in a manner speaking). Whence and wherefore Boston's appearance in court to be dealt with, in accordance with the majestic law's inflexible provisions appertaining to the crime of fighting. It was most conclusively established that Boston did then and there, at the time stated, unlawfully, wilfully and feloniously (?) attack the said Willie Mitchell; and further, that the said Willie Mitchell did then and there, prior to the herein specified unlawful attacks made upon his person, act in a manner most incautious, thereby becoming (in a manner of speaking) an accessory before the fact and a participant therein, in the said crime of fighting.

"Pay two dollars each, including the costs, Boston and Willie," advised Mayor Titus. Boston paid. Willie's pa-pah paid.

Court adjourned sine die.
